

Why is Asset Allocation important?

- » Perception and reality of risk are opposite to each other
- » When markets are high the perceived risk is low
- » When markets are low the perceived risk is high
- » Investors decisions are generally driven by emotions and revolve around the cycle of fear, greed and hope

INVESTMENT STRATEGY:

The fund endeavours to generate superior risk adjusted returns and shall achieve this by investing in a basket of Balanced Advantage Funds selected on the basis of pre-defined set of rules. The fund presents an opportunity to investors in two parts:

ASSET ALLOCATION

Investment into Balanced Advantage Funds present an asset allocation strategy i.e. when the market risk is high the asset allocation towards equity shall be low and vice-versa.

FUND DIVERSIFICATION

Since the Fund has invested in three Balanced advantage funds, it brings to the investors equity selection and asset allocation of three different styles through three different fund managers.
